

WHAT IS HISTORY?

- History is an account of the past.
  - Accounts differ depending on one's perspective.
  - We rely on evidence to construct accounts of the past.
  - We must question the reliability of each piece of evidence.
  - Any single piece of evidence is insufficient to build a plausible account.
-
-
- Stanford History
Education Group

